Exceptional Contract Performance

Innovation:

From CPAR rating for INNOVATION from National Science Foundation (NSF): “The development of an interim CMS to handle the content and display of the 2016 Science and Engineering Indicators in only 9 months shows the dedication and professionalism of the team. The end product is intuitive, beautifully designed, and adaptive to mobile or desktop presentation. The team continues to research and develop innovative solutions to issues confronting the Center’s website.

The Contractor employees suggest and implement solutions to displaying web content. The Contractor stood up an Agile team to run the development of the CMS. The team functions well and is producing an innovative and intuitive application designed to speed and streamline the movement of content into the web.”

Management:

From CPAR rating for MANAGEMENT from USAF 6th CES, MacDill AFB: “Contractor produces seamless integration of services into the daily operations of the unit. The Contractor’s corporate culture promotes outstanding customer service standards and results. The Contractor exceeded all customer survey based performance standards for every month of the contract for the entire period of performance. The Contractor interactions with the Government and other Contractor staff was impeccable. Zero issues have occurred that required any level of involvement by the COR to mitigate Contractor relationships. The Contractor is an outstanding example of teamwork, service before self, and reliable results. Their approach to customer service and teamwork has saved the Government tens of thousands of dollars in lost time due to personnel or service issues.”

Quality:

From CPAR rating for QUALITY from US Army Cadet Command: “The talent that PenBay Media LLC brings to the table is phenomenal. The successful completion of all deliverables ahead of schedule had an overwhelming positive effect on the Command. Which allowed the Command to be pro-active instead of reactive when it came to C4IM support. They strive for excellence in all they do to include hiring phenomenal talent coupled with outstanding coordination, prodigious management practices and promptness of deliverables.”
